WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—(By wire.)—A resolution introduced today by Representative Hiram Bingham, Republican, New York, the house would go on record as opposing any interference by American forces in the situation at Fiume. WOMAN'S CITY CLUB NOT A "FIGHTING" ORGANIZATION; WILL WORK FOR THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE CITY

Why can't you be a member of the Woman's City Club? What does life mean to you? Can you measure the worth of your existence in the coin of accomplishment? Does it pay the world that you go on living? Why not prove your worth by joining the Woman's City Club, becoming an asset in the busy world by extending a helping hand?

The Woman's City Club in Portsmouth is being organized now. There are 9,000 women in the city of Portsmouth, and as many thousands as possible are asked to enroll as members of this club. To be a member of the club means that you pay an annual fee of one dollar, the money to be used in carrying out such schemes of the club as meet with the general approval.

Fountains for playgrounds in the two parks have been among the things suggested and carried before the temporary organization for consideration. The club is not a militant body, which may vigorously attack various things in the city. It is a group of women who think of the welfare of the youth and health of the city, who will co-operate with organizations whose work it is to care for the sanitary, moral and civic conditions of the city.

When you are approached by a woman in your block asking that you become a member, remember the cause and necessity for the women to get together on such a proposition and become a member of the Portsmouth Woman's City Club.

The Woman's City Club will stand back of any movement to beautify the city. It will work with any movement which will clean the city of vice. It has at least the playgrounds for the children and good amusements for the boys and girls. It will endorse and stand by all clean sports. It will co-operate with city officials on sanitary matters and in every way be a loyal right hand for the better interests of the city.

After being knocked down Mrs. Morris was dragged possibly 10 feet before the Reinfrank could stop her machine. They found no bones broken, but Mrs. Morris suffered greatly from the shock. She rallied after being given restoratives and last night was removed to her home. She was resting much easier this morning. Mrs. Reinfrank was driving west on Gallia street and had just turned south on Chillicothe when Mrs. Morris started across the street in front of her machine. Another version of the accident was to the effect that Mrs. Reinfrank had turned around to see who was calling her from the sidewalk when her machine struck Mrs. Morris and knocked her down.

President Richard Anderson, will appoint a committee to get bids on the work, which if satisfactory, will be completed in the near future as a remembrance to the school by the class of '20.

This action was brought about by the continued controversies over which class shall wave its flag on the staff—and in view of the fact that there is at present no American flag on the building.

The class also decided to introduce a Senior Literary Society in the school, the organization of which will probably take place next week at a special class meeting.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

I love her with all my heart and she has always told me she loved me. But when I am with her she often speaks of my fallen relatives and asks me if I will ever be like some of them. Of late she is easily made to believe things that are untrue that she hears and she says she doesn't want to have her reputation hurt.

She often speaks of her chum who is to be married the same time we are. She says her chum will have fine furniture and she wishes that we could afford as much as her chum.

I am a laboring man and will be glad to do the best for her that I can. Do you think furnished rooms would be all right to live in for a while, as I have lately been discharged from the army and have not much money saved?

Do you think she loves me, no, she should!

I do not like to discourage you, but your situation looks a little serious. The girl ought to love you, so much that she will forget the reputation of your relatives and take you for what you are. Besides, if she has consented to marry, she should be willing to take what you can give her and not try to compare what she has with what someone else has.

Wait a few months before you marry so that you will be more sure of the girl's love. If you lose her, try not to look for a girl of good reputation. I am serious. Surely you would rather go along with a girl of twenty-four and her up than have a wife who would have been going with her for over a year for what you could give her than three years.

We are to be married this month and I see girls are willing to go into

Do you think the man I love loves me? I know I will never be happy without him. If he marries someone else I will love the girl for his sake. Please give me your advice.

SAD BLUE EYES.

It is so useless to speculate whether or not the young man still cares for you. You lost him in a fit of temper, and now should make the best of the situation. Do all you can to forget him and give up love that he will come back. If he cared very much he would be too miserable to hide the fact from you.

You can be happy again and soon if you will give up the past and live for the present and future.

Dear Miss Wise—We are chums seventeen years of age. We have been engaged about six months and our fiancés wish to get married in the spring. We are sure we love these men with all our hearts, but at times they feel different about it and think we do not love them. How can we prove that our love is everlasting?

JUDIE AND CUTIE.

You are very much too young to think of marriage. I do not wonder that your fiancés doubt the probability of your love and marriage next spring. It is foolish to try to prove love. Time will test it.

Dear Miss Wise—Would you please tell me if there is a summer normal school in this county or not? There used to be one at Wheelersburg, but I have not heard of it lately. If you would take a six weeks' course at Athens, would you receive your four credits the same as you would for nine months' course in High School? I would like to "make up" four of my H. S. credits next summer, if possible.

Thank you.

LUCILLE.

There is no longer a summer normal at Wheelersburg, but there is a normal there during the regular school year, conducted in the High School building. The credits you would get at Athens would be for six weeks' work. It wouldn't take more than one summer term to make up your High School credits. However, if you go to the normal school at Wheelersburg this winter you could be making up your high school credits and be getting one-half credit on a normal course.

The joy of Motherhood explains why—MOTHER'S FRIEND

Is a veritable balm for the weary, an intensely penetrating application that softens the muscles, relieves nervous tension of the delicate organs involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and more practical delivery. Such relief so markedly upon the unborn child. Mother's Friend is used externally.

JACKSON NEWS

JACKSON, Sept. 24—Louis Duncan, the outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, who has already distinguished himself, is visiting his sister, Mrs. John Boylan in this city. He will remain here until September 25 when he goes to Dayton. He is a native of this county, born at Coalton, some twenty-five years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duncan, now residing at Vincennes in Indiana. He learned to play baseball behind the slate dump in the meadow of A. M. Scott at Coalton. Duncan measures five feet, eight and a half inches and weighs 178 pounds. He has an aunt living in this county, Mrs. Henry Hixon of Coalton. His mother was formerly Miss Martha Farmer of Haysville.

A telegram brought the news yesterday of the death of Mrs. Sarah Hanna at Duncin in Jackson county, Missouri. She leaves nine children. She was a daughter of J. Wilson Hanna and Martha Crookham of this county and went west with her parents in 1858. Her husband who is dead, was Vernon Howe, a former resident of Scott county. Only one of the twelve children of her parents survives, Horatio T. Hanna, of Peoria, Kansas, who was in Jackson when the telegram reached him, visiting his boyhood home.

John Call is moving his household goods to this city, where he will reside and they were brought by truck, from Columbus, in five hours.

Cherene Edinger of Wellston, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Martha Edinger.

Green Arraigned

The motion for a new trial for Everett Green found guilty of murder in the second degree, Sept. 30, was filed yesterday. There are nine reasons and causes assigned for making the motion, the first of which is that the defendant was never arraigned. This is possibly the first time that such a neglect has occurred in a first degree murder case in Ohio. Everett Green was indicted jointly with William Coffman and Edward Coffman and was out of jail on account of illness longer than Edward Coffman. A second reason in the motion is that Ora E. Dawson, one of the jurors is said to have been in court when the case of William Coffman was tried and heard the testimony and the evidence. The reasons assigned in the motion have caused considerable agitation, for his trial occupied six days. Sixty-one jurors were summoned and forty-nine were examined before a jury was secured. The jury deliberated for 12 hours before agreeing on their verdict. One juror held out for manslaughter for many hours.

John T. Herbert, father of Thomas J. Herbert, a young aviator, wounded severely in France, has just received a medal from the English government known as the Distinguished Flying Cross, awarded to the young aviator for his achievements.

Patrolmen Still Missing

Patrolmen Regor Ricker and Noah Payne, under indictment for assault and battery, are still numbered among the missing. Deputy Sheriff Harry Dunham said this morning when asked if he had succeeded in locating the pair. The accused officers obtained a leave of absence early last week and since then William Getz and James Odo have been patrolling their beats on the night shift.

It was reported last night that Ricker and Payne are now sojourning in Kentucky, where the air is more invigorating at present. The indictment against the two officers was brought in connection with an alleged assault upon "It" Clifford at police headquarters on the night of August 31, last.

Popular Couple Married On Front Steps Of Bridegroom's Grocery In New Boston

Before fully 300 of their friends and acquaintances Zachary Hale, well known Ohio avenue grocer, New Boston and Miss Gretta Hayes, also a resident of that village were married last night at 7:30 o'clock.

The ceremony took place on the steps leading to the bridegroom's grocery and when the impressive ring service was concluded by Rev. J. E. Hilbert the big throng heartily applauded the bride and groom.

Rev. Howard Haney, Pecos-st minister, assisted Rev. Hilbert and before the marriage ceremony he sang a pleasing solo.

"I told you I would sing a song the night Mr. Hale and Miss Hayes were married and I made good my promise," Rev. Haney said after he had finished his solo. He has a splendid voice. Mr. and Mrs. Hale have already gone to housekeeping in a home the bridegroom has furnished near his place of business. They were showered with congratulations after their marriage, which was one of the most unique ever held in the village.

Later in the evening the happy couple was "treated" to an old fashioned belting.

FLAG RUSH IS ON

"And the flag was still there."

Members of the Junior Class of P. H. S. were jubilant when they came to school this morning and saw waving in serenity from the high school flag pole the tin banner of their class.

And one member of the Senior Class, at least, so the reports have it, is going about with a sore head.

The Juniors have been most carefully guarding their pennant. Monday night the Seniors managed to get it about half way down when, for some reason, they ceased operations and beat a retreat.

Later in the evening a Senior went back with the purpose of finishing the job. He was met by a small party of the enemies' fronts and routed.

Some Seniors, however, insist that "the end is not yet."

When Lafayette shaved in America

WHEN Lafayette put aside the pomp and ruffles of the French Court, and became a fighter for your liberty and mine, he brought with him his beautifully chased set of razors.

As a soldier, he realized the part they would play in keeping him fit. But after he was wounded at Brandywine, the young general found it was not so easy to shave unaided, for in spite of their sweetness of balance and true French temper, his razors lacked the common sense element of safety. What Lafayette needed was the double-edged, detachable, guarded blade of the

Jews To Celebrate Festival Of New Year

On Thursday, September the twenty-first, the festival of the New Year (Rosh Hashanah) will be observed by the Jews of the entire world. Like all the other Jewish holy days, the festival commences at sunset on the preceding day. Orthodox Jews observe two days, whereas Reform Jews keep only one day.

The festival of the New Year is one of the most important in the whole Jewish calendar. It is the first of a series of holidays lasting nearly a month. It is likewise the beginning of the Jewish year and one of its principal features is the blowing of the Shofar or ram's horn.

Apart from its joyful and festive nature, Rosh Hashanah is rich in moral import and significance. The fact that it is the beginning of the New Year lends it special solemnity. It is the time of higher resolves, the turning point of the year. It is the day which brings home to the Jew with great force the lesson that the time is short and the work is great, and that, as each year rolls quickly by, the task must be accomplished within a shorter period.

The festival is a gentle reminder of the brevity of human existence, but it optimistically stresses the doctrine that man, far from being a plaything in the hands of fate, can realize his life's work if he but takes advantage of the swiftly fleeting moments.

At the temple of the local congregation, Bene Abraham, at the corner of Third and Washington streets, New York City, "No teach us to number our days that we may gain a heart of wisdom." Mr. Frank's subject for the morning service will be "The Shofar," the rabbi of the congregation, with "Herald of the Kingdom of God."

31 CHILDREN UNDERGO TREATMENT FOR TRACHOMA; CLINIC CONTINUES

Without the accompaniment of loud children to the great surgeon at the dispensary but with the consent of the street dispensary Tuesday, a no-the earliest parents who brought their child work was accomplished during the hours of the day, a work which will have as its result the credit of saving from eternal blindness the thirty-one children who under went treatment for trachoma.

Surgeon John McMillen, national expert, and Dr. Ross Hopkins, of the State department of Public Health, conducted the treatments. Nurses A. Lunt, Zoe McCaleb, of the Federal and State Department of Public Health; Myrtle Kepler, local school nurse; Ada Lammers, and Miss F. Mahaffy, local public health nurses, and Carrie Swearingin, Bureau of Community Service, assisted.

Mrs. Edward S. Gilligan, of the Bureau of Community Service and Mrs. Victoria White, Red Cross Home Service were present during the day aiding with the work.

Miss Emma Hubert, Bureau of Community Service and Miss Alma Frantz, Red Cross, attended various cases to and from the clinic.

A number of parents accompanied their children. Mrs. J. Fields and four children from Kentucky, who received treatment, spent the night in the temporary hospital at the dispensary. There were several out of town children and several local children who were kept at the dispensary for the night, with two nurses. Miss Zoe McCaleb and Miss Carrie Swearingin, in attendance.

The clinic continues this week but parents are urged to have their children attended to as early as possible. Surgeon McMillen is a national expert and the opportunity offered at this time with the great surgeon, and Dr. Ross Hopkins and J. L. Goodwin also here assisting in the clinic work, is one which no one can afford to miss.

Following the treatment for trachoma the patient is able to return to school after a few hours and may return to school after a day or two completely cured. It is here the greatest suspicion of trachoma infection or a doubt in the minds of parents about the condition of a child's eyes, come to the clinic where free examination is given followed by treatment if desired.

Moran Tells How He Planted Glorious Pennant In Redland

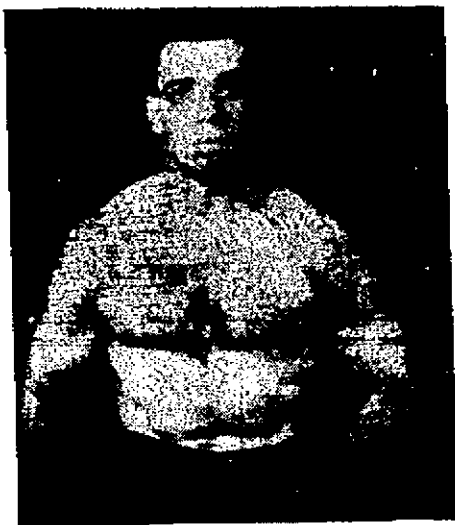

Says Team Had Real Ability And The Boys All Pulled One Way

Scout Billy Doyle while in Cincinnati this week was a dinner guest of Manager Moran. They are old pals and Doyle was instrumental in Moran accepting the leadership of the Reds. When Doyle asked Moran how he came to whip the Reds into a championship team in one season, he replied: "The material was there. All I had to do was to handle it. The team worked conscientiously all season and when my pitchers began to round in shape, I knew we were in position to give the Cubs and the Giants a battle. And of course every fan in the country knows we did more than this. My boys obeyed every instruction and rule, no matter how rigid and to them as much as my handling goes the credit for winning the flag, Moran said.

"Naturally I have been a big help through his brilliant playing. Elmer, Salter and Mueller also helped immeasurably and there is Jimmy Ring, Fisher, Leary, in fact every one on the team played his part in winning the pennant. It was one year to come through and we came through with flying colors."

"When my team began to come from behind daily and beat out the best teams by continuing records I became satisfied as early as last June, that I had a real contender. When we took first place from the Giants on Saturday, July 12, I made up my mind then that we would never be headed and we were not. On this memorable day we blanketed the Platts, 7 to 0 with firing in the box and Cooper of the Pirates white-washed New York, 1 to 1. My team was imbued with a winning spirit, but the attack at the bat and a most wonderful defense."

Moran frankly admits the Reds, with all the regulars in the game, is the best team he has ever coached.

CAMP SHERMAN 11 HERE SUNDAY

Portsmouth's football fans will get to see their first Sunday game Sunday when the first N. & W. team looks up with Camp Sherman's big eleven. Manager August Putzke received a letter last night saying that the soldier team will be down Sunday morning in several big trucks. The Camp team will be accompanied by a large number of loyal supporters.

Announcement was also made last night that the N. & W. team would play their Sunday games on the Industrial baseball grounds, Sixteenth and Findlay streets. These grounds are accessible to the football fans of Portsmouth, and no doubt large crowds will be on hand to witness games when they are played in the city instead of at Millbrook park. Mr. Putzke is trusting that those who come out to see the games will "come across" when the hat is passed, as there is no way to collect a certain admission on the Industrial grounds.

The team's backers are putting the field in the best possible shape and goal posts are being erected today so the gridiron will be ready for Sunday. Over two hundred season tickets have already been sold at one dollar each. The tickets are worth the price asked as teams are to be brought here from Columbus, Mansfield, Dayton and Cincinnati.

The team is getting down to hard training and a snappy practice may be seen any evening the players are out. Practice is held on every evening, except Wednesday and Saturday. Practice will be held tomorrow evening at six o'clock. Gilbert Kendall has signed to play with the N. & W. team.

INTENSIVE TRAINING IS ON AMONG P. H. S. ATHLETES; HERE ARE RULES

The following notice appeared on the Athletic Bulletin Board today of P. H. S. signed by Coach Robert G. Hess:

From the tone of this self-explanatory mandate it can be seen that the Coach is sitting heavy on the boys. And by the way, that is what helped win the all but one basketball schedule last year—just that intensive training.

Here's the notice:

MEMBERS OF FOOTBALL TEAM

Dancing.

Parties (unless special permission of coach is received).

ROBERT G. HESS, Coach.

Cicotte In Opener

Over in Chicago the fans contend that the opposing pitchers in the opening Red-Sox game will be Cicotte and Salter. It is certain that Cicotte will work for Chicago, but Manager Moran's choice will be between Elmer and Miller. Many believe that Moran at the last moment will use Elmer and the first game will resolve itself in a battle of the shins ball hurlers.

Mr. Stevens Goes Through

George W. Stevens, federal manager of the C. & O., passed through South Portsmouth Tuesday afternoon. His special car being attached to train No. 2, which left South Portsmouth at 2:30 for Cincinnati.

State Down To Real Work

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24—Ohio State held Monday afternoon.

Never before has Coach Wilson called upon his huskies to mix it up so early in the season. The early scrimmage no doubt means that Wilson intends to manufacture an aggregation that can be depended upon to carry that ball considerable distance by employing straight football.

Plays Are Put On Board

Coach Hess held a regular class meeting last night when he had the P. H. S. football team up at the board diagramming signals and plays.

Each member of the squad was expected to make a satisfactory recitation—and the coach made them toe the line, too.

Mr. Hess declared the entire squad up scientific plays.

Knost Assistant Manager

Coach Hess of P. H. S. today appointed Richard Knost, first assistant football manager.

He will act in the absence of Manager Orimes, supervise the lining off of the field before games, to handle the sale of tickets at games and other work.

Knost was one of the assistant managers elected to represent the Junior Class on the gridiron.

WILL RING STAR IN BIG SERIES?

Fans in Cincinnati are picking Jimmy Ring, big Red hurler, as the dark horse of the world series. Series experts have written much of Salter, Leathers and Elmer as stars of the National champs. Ring always has been numbered among the Big Four of Major League, but generally his name has come fourth in the naming. Ring has pitched in such tough luck during the season that the Cincy fans are looking for him to prove a big factor in the series.

"Grandstand Managers" Active In Redland

Cincinnati Reds are coming in "grandstand managers" because of the eye of the world's series they are making a barnstorming trip which takes them to northern Ohio. These fellows think that Moran is making a big mistake by not keeping his club in Cincinnati for the next four days. "The Reds receive a guarantee of $1000 in each of the four cities where they show. One half of this goes to the players, so the latter are making no kick."

GRID WARRIORS TO PRACTICE YELLS

Plans are being made to hold a game with Jackson Saturday will be "Thurs" meeting at the High School Thursday morning at which time the yells and songs to be used at the of the Athletic Association.

Jackson Hi Here Saturday

The P. H. S. Football squad enjoyed a stiff practice session yesterday at the Seventeenth and Findlay streets field, going through the art of rolling on the ball, tackling practice, a snappy signal practice and wound up with a short scrimmage.

The men are fast rounding into shape and will be in fine condition to meet the Jacksonians Saturday at Millbrook.

Mittendorf Is Selected

FRONTON, Sept. 24—At a meeting of the football men of Fronton High held yesterday, Earl Mittendorf was elected manager. Earl is quite excellent in business lines and will no doubt make a fine manager. He immediately began working on the schedule for the coming year in an effort to have it straightened out this week.

LET THEM TAKE PROFIT

THE rush of emigration from Germany to South America is so great that every ship sailing for the ports of that region up to February, is already booked full for every passenger it can carry.

If South America is able to profit of an object lesson she will not make the same mistake with these emigrants that this country did. Pursuing its cheap method of politics North America, that is the United States designated as such, allowed the teaching of German in the public schools, went further even than that, not only prescribing it should be taught, but allowing schools to exist where it was taught exclusively. This was an injustice to the emigrant and his children and, as recent events proved, an injury to the country. It was an injustice to the emigrant and his children because its effect was to segregate him and them; to raise up a sort of barrier between them and the rest of the population that prevented their recognition as full-fledged Americans and we saw thousands of them shut out of the sympathies of the community, and looked upon with suspicion, when in fact they were good and loyal citizens. It was hurtful to the country because many others, continuing in the language and thought of their fatherland—not altogether solely of their fault, because this nation gave them encouragement thereto—clung to it through the war and caused us both concern and trouble.

A nation should have a common language, for its peace and security it should speak in its one tongue, be that English, Latin or Portuguese, or what else. A common tongue promotes understanding and prevents treason. Opinion, thought, is colored by the words one is accustomed to hearing and speaking there isn't a doubt about that. No matter how well you may understand one language you can not get its exact meaning, its influence if you think in another. That is no more vividly illustrated than in the difference between the Britons and the Americans. For though both speak the English language their usage of it varies so that an Englishman is quite puzzled by an American, while the American thinks the Englishman is queer, shall we say a queer duck?

This demand for one national language should not, of course, go to the exclusion of teaching any other language under all circumstances. Any knowledge one can acquire is broadening and expanding, language quite so, but the first concern of the state should be to teach its citizens to think in its established and common tongue.

STRENGTH TO HIS ARM

PROSECUTING Attorney Sheppard makes announcement that he is considering the appointment of a motor cop, who will trail speeders, and that it is his intention to vigorously prosecuting speed violations by automobilists.

That would sound better if the public hadn't heretofore been surfeited with like "proclamations," never getting any further along than the newspaper columns, until it is inclined to look upon all such in scornful doubt.

Let, however, the Prosecutor be given the encouragement of sincerity in his avowed purpose. It isn't altogether the fault of the law that speed regulations are not enforced. The indifferent attitude of the public toward the offence and the effort to correct is in part to blame. A zealous official not only deserves support in his unpleasant work, he needs it. Many a one finds excuse in the claim that the people will not support, or approve him when he does try to do his full duty, and he isn't far wrong there as to the fact.

Let it be understood too that the Prosecuting Attorney can not do it all by himself. He has to have the aid of juries and judges and unless these join heartily with quick presentation and salutary penalty, not much will be accomplished.

General Pershing and General Wood are both being prominently mentioned for presidential nomination. The difference between the two is that Pershing utterly ignores the matter, giving no sign, while Wood, a regular Barkis-is-willins' sort of a chap, is casting coy glances around and trying to smuggle up.

No opera bouffe never contained such a temerarious thing as was perpetrated by D'Annunzio in entering Finnie and holding up the whole world by the tail, as it were. Already, however, the common place empty stomach threatens to put an unbloody end to this international romance.

Might as well announce here and now that those postoffice trucks that arrived Tuesday are not for sale. They are for use in the local postal service.

Since the Germans have taken to executing the bloody leaders of the Reds, respect for her new government is growing.

New York has got the idea wrong and thinks a commission form of government for the state would be better. It isn't the form, in a republic that makes for good or bad government, it is the sort of men that control and operate it.

Another theory exploded. The Atlantic and Mexican gulf were swept last week by the severest storm in their history and many a gallant ship was sent to Davy Jones' locker, yet, there is no war raging either.

Campaigns for presidential nominations are being set afoot already. That's one trouble with this land, too much time is taken in figuring and fighting as to who shall fill the offices, and, conversely too little in minding how the offices are filled.

This weather is a sort of reminder that even the truck man has things run against him, being as winter is so near in prospective.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

The idea of a bride leaving the blues! Yet for three days I've been mooping in the house or strolling about the wet, windy road, battling with little blue devils.

It all started the night I didn't get home in time to fix dinner and found Jim already there with that man Belton he'd brought from the office.

What with that woman from New York I met at Mrs. Wythe's and her horrid son flitting with me, and the idea both they and Mr. Belton gave me about New York-New York that I've always dreamed of and idealized as the place of all places to live a full, useful, happy life—I got into a regular fit of the doldrums.

"Well, what do you think of Belton?" Jim asked briskly next morning. For answer I sort of puckered up my face and said nothing.

"You mean you don't like him?" Jim turned to me with his hair hat brushed, half sitting up.

"I like you better," I answered facetiously, kissing him on the ear.

"But, Ann, he's a splendid fellow." "All right, dear; he's a splendid fellow," I agree, hurrying on my morning frock and bustling into the kitchen.

I hope Jim wouldn't pursue the subject, but of course he did.

"Why don't you like Charlie Belton, Ann?" he persisted at the breakfast table.

"He's a type I don't understand, Jim; that's all. I suppose he's what people call a 'Broadway type'."

I didn't wish to tell him that every time Belton got a chance to say or did some little thing, trifling in itself, but illuminating to a woman's sensitive instinct, if I had to describe him in a single phrase I'd say "not straightforward."

"You certainly have the gift of imagination, Ann. If you've anything definite against Charlie Belton you'd be doing all hands a service to shoot it over. I may hook up with him in a business proposition."

"What?" I asked eagerly.

"Tell me first, pursued Jim, 'why you don't like him?'"

"I don't treat him; that's all I can say."

"Well, that isn't enough to say," Jim spoke insistently. "Why can't you women be outspoken and truthful? I don't like you to be childish, Ann."

It would have been a relief to get good and mad. I felt like saying, "Childish! You call me childish to object to a snail-paced man who makes futile attempts to touch my head and lapel himself! Yet you show resentment at my getting a letter from a man in England I haven't seen or heard from in six years, just because I had a girlish, half-baked, wildly innocent little romance with him that was the sweetest adventure of my life."

And you with a packet of letters and photographs in an old trunk in the cellar—a trunk you say is filled with 'business junk'."

But I held out myself. I am not going to spoil my marriage with a nasty succession of bickerings. Managing marriage is like any other business job—only harder. One cannot afford to indulge in too many tempers and too many ugly arguments. So I choked down my resentment.

"All right, Jimmie," I said, forcing my voice to amiability. "I don't want to be childish either. Tell me about the business deal with Mr. Belton."

"Haven't time now, grille." He kissed me and went out.

I felt just like going out into the back lot and kicking something. Some day Jim will find I am not a cute little wifelet, only fit to dress up pretty and mind her outside-toilette housework. Some time I shall blow up with a loud report and be a regular person.

"There! Writing this in my diary already makes me feel better. (To be continued.)"

GENERAL PRESTON BROWN

General Preston Brown is one of the six men selected for the general war college staff who rose from the ranks to this honor.

Gen. Brown enlisted in the old 5th Artillery and studied for a commission in the infantry. Before his enlistment period expired he had passed the examination and won his lieutenant's rank.

He went into the Spanish-American war and served in the Santiago campaign in Cuba as a second lieutenant in the 24th Infantry. In 1903 he was promoted to be first lieutenant in the same regiment and went to the Philippine Islands.

His regiment saw plenty of service in the islands during the next three years. His work in the campaign won promotion for him, and in June, 1905, he was wearing the double shoulder bars of a captain.

He served in the Judge Advocate General's department for a time and then went back to service with troops, being assigned to the 15th Infantry. He has also served with the quartermaster department, but found time to attend the Army School of the Line at Fort Leavenworth, graduating at the head of his class. From this school he went to the Staff College.

What he learned was of such worth to him that when he was chief of staff of the hard-fighting 2d Division, his direction of details of the battles near Chateau Thierry, Soissons and St. Mihiel, and his later work in commanding the 3d Division in the Argonne-Meuse offensive were marked by such signal ability that he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

And they would fall. Of the birds, skies and trees. And of the future.

And since she passed on. More than five years ago. He has come every night. He said to commune with her. And all at once.

There was a quick puff of air. "That is her now," he said. And I saw the hair.

On my dog's back bristle. And there was a low whine. And my friend uttered.

A few words in ancient Hebrew. And there was a pause. And he said to me.

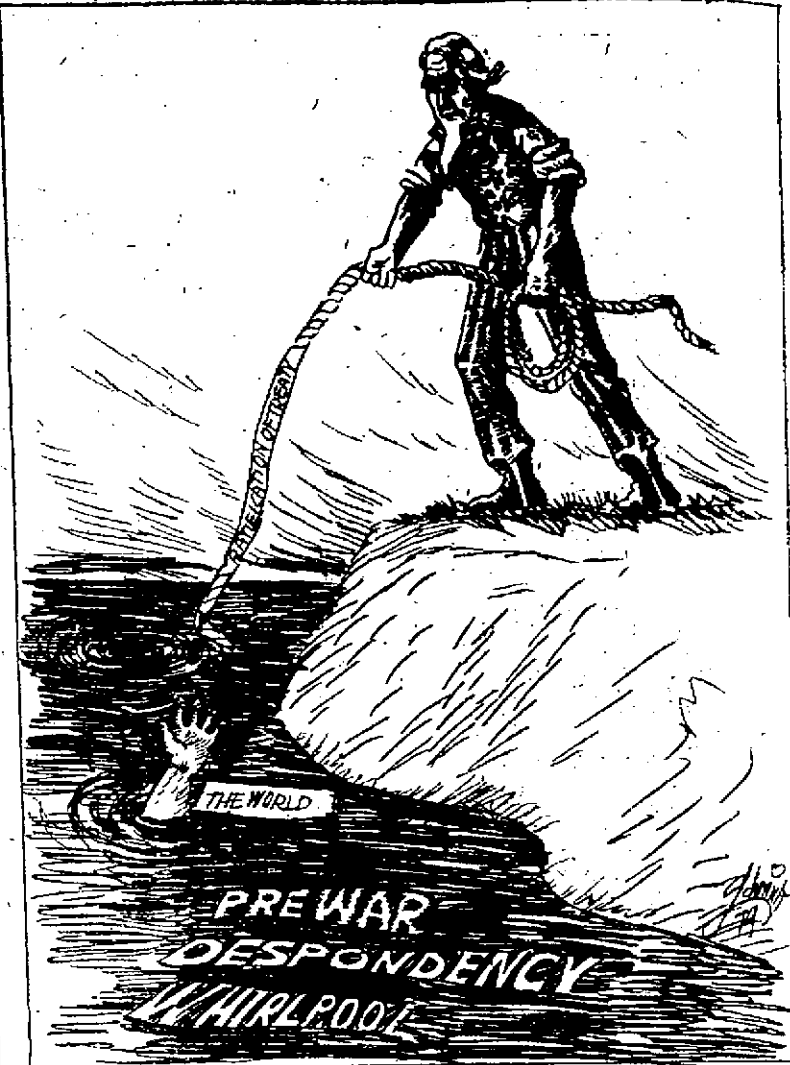

She comes every evening. Just at this time. And I don't believe in ghosts. Or in spiritualism.

And the puff of air. Was a mere coincidence. And it just happened.

My dog bristled and whined. But just the same. My wife was in the country. And I was alone.

And I slept all night long.

A Bouncer. Willie seemed deep in thought. A puzzled frown marred his chubby face. "I can't make it out!" he muttered.

"Make what out?" asked his mother, who had been watching her little son with an amused smile.

"Why everyone calls little brother a Difference in Sexes. "I never was so disappointed in my life!" said Rankin.

"What's the trouble?" asked his friend. "In the city the other day I saw an aquatic exhibition advertisement."

"Yes." "And I immediately bought tickets."

"You were disappointed?" "Yes; all I saw was a lot of men in diving suits."

"But what did you expect at an aquatic exhibition?" "Girls in bathing suits, at least."

Cause For Doubt. "Has your husband gone fishing?" "That's what he claims."

"Do you doubt the good man?" "Well, there are a lot of pictures to be hung and rugs to be dusted and so on today. John is too kind hearted to refuse any request of mine. I shouldn't be surprised if he had simply gone down to the creek and hid in the bushes."

Only 21. "Gwendolyn must be very fond of you."

"What makes you think so?" said Miss Cayenne, coldly.

"Every year she gets up a birthday party for you."

"Merely a delicate method of calling attention to my age."

"What is that?" "The ability to make people think he's rich."

Congress Inclined To View Steel Strike As Prelude To Show Down Between Capital And Labor Forces

Rioting Goes On

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Congress is inclined to view the steel strike as the first skirmish in industrial warfare, possibly only the prelude to the long talked of "show down" between capital and labor, which many have predicted would come in the readjustment from war to peace.

The open statement by some of the strike leaders that the strike is the start of a movement to socialize the basic industries of the country, coupled with the fact that the railway workers already have proposed, in the so-called "Pittsburgh plan," to socialize the transportation highways, is regarded in congress as very significant.

The reading resolution by Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa, to have the senate committee investigate the causes of the strike, hearing both chairman of the steel corporation, on behalf of capital, and John J. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the organization committee of the steel workers, on behalf of labor, is planned to open up the whole situation, it is believed, in the great third party—the public—as the senate from Iowa himself explains.

Fitzpatrick will be heard by the committee tomorrow and Judge Gary will be heard Wednesday, October 1.

FOUR MEN STABBED
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—Four men were stabbed today, following last night's outbreak in which one man was killed and several persons were wounded, the situation was tense. State police and a large number of deputy sheriffs were patrolling the streets within the riot zone. Thirty men of the constabulary arrived late last night to aid the detachment already stationed here, with a reduced force.

MORE PROTEST AT FAREHILL
FAREHILL, PA., Sept. 24.—Although all was quiet here today, following last night's outbreak in which one man was killed and several persons were wounded, the situation was tense. State police and a large number of deputy sheriffs were patrolling the streets within the riot zone. Thirty men of the constabulary arrived late last night to aid the detachment already stationed here, with a reduced force.

DISTURBANCES IN CHICAGO DISTRICT
CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—While leaders of the striking steel workers by the Chicago district and heads of steel mills each claimed gains, there appeared little change today in the number of plants in operation. A majority of the mills were still closed and practically all the detention of operation workers already stationed here, with a reduced force.

THE REAL ARISTOCRACY

The real Aristocrat is the man who is independent, self-respecting and industrious.

You will find that kind of men patronizing this Bank.

Join the ranks. The door is open.

THE OHIO VALLEY BANK

Reports were in circulation today of the importation of strike breakers into the Chicago district and that some of the mills idle since Monday contemplated resuming operations by pooling workmen who had remained loyal.

The only disorder in this district since inception of the strike, occurred at Indiana Harbor, Indiana, last night, when strike sympathizers outside the coke plant of the Mark Manufacturing Company, attacked about 25 men as they left work.

Eight or nine men were badly beaten and were taken to an emergency hospital after Indiana Harbor, police stopped the fighting. A number of shots were fired at the police but none was hit. A negro striker who carried a rifle was arrested.

The men who were attacked had remained to pull fire and to prepare the plant for an extended shut-down, it was stated.

STEAMERS ARE TIED UP
More than 100,000 tons of iron ore today were tied up in the outer harbor at South Chicago by the refusal of the crews to dock the vessels. Chicago officials of the seamen's union said that their men had voted to strike in sympathy with the steel men.

Recorded by employers as the most important defection from the strikers ranks was the reported election of 40 rollers of the American Sheet & Tube Company, at Gary, Indiana, to return to work. According to company reports, each of these men would bring back his crew of 20 men.

Federal officers at Gary arrested Michael Velovich, charged with making sedition speeches. The officers asserted Velovich distributed pamphlets urging development of the strike into a revolution which should take over the government for the unions.

"FIGHT TO THE FINISH"
PITTSBURGH, PA., Sept. 24.—Interest in the nation-wide steel strike, which has been in progress since last Monday, centers today in the meeting here of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers. There in close touch with the strike are of the opinion that the session, called by William Z. Foster, secretary-treasurer of the committee, will bring out important facts relative to the walk-out of thousands of workers who headed the call of their leaders.

Mr. Foster declares that the committee will not consider "peace plans" but will discuss the advisability of extending the strike to include segments on Great Lakes carrier vessels and union treatment. The question of financing the strike will come up and Mr. Foster says he will bring to the attention of the committee the "unprovoked assaults" by state troopers on strikers. According to the secretary, the union is preparing for a long struggle and he declares the workers will "fight to the bitter end."

CONFLICTING CLAIMS
The strike situation in the Pittsburgh district remains practically unchanged, with employers and union leaders issuing conflicting statements as to the number of men involved in the walk-out. The union men declare thousands of workers are joining the ranks of the strikers daily and that scores of mills have been crippled. Employers say that they are pained with present conditions, which, it is announced by a representative of the

Three Vote Victory By Republicans

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—Exactly how far the three-vote victory of the Republicans in the peace treaty fight in the senate yesterday can be construed as a real index of the feeling of the senate toward the treaty and the covenant was a debatable question today among senators. Opponents of the league accept the vote as a true line-up of the senators for final action, while the Democrats make light of the result and declare it means nothing.

The vote, which stood 43 to 40, was taken on a motion by Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee, to postpone for one week consideration of forty or more amendments which would relieve the United States from service on commitments under the treaty. Although Senator Lodge's motion was to deter consideration of the amendments, offered by Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, until "next Tuesday," he later explained that he had chosen the date at random and it was changed to Friday.

The amendment of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, designed to equalize the voting powers in the League of the United States and Great Britain is not expected now to be taken up until the senate finally has disposed of the Fall amendments.

AIRPLANE JOY RIDING AT CAPITAL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Lawson de Luxe airplane, with its 15 passengers, some of them women, was ready today to fly to Dayton, Ohio, the next step on its trans-continental journey to San Francisco.

After "joy riding" government officials and members of congress, including Secretary Baker and several senators, over the capital, the giant air liner, which the inventor says, is demonstrating the feasibility of aerial passenger travel, made ready today for the "hop off."

DEATH TOLL INCREASED
Disorders incident to the strike continued in the Pittsburgh district yesterday and last night. The most serious outbreak occurred at Farrell, where two men were killed during a clash between strikers and their sympathizers and state troopers. In the disorders of Monday and Tuesday at Farrell, New Castle and other points four persons have been killed, more than a score shot, many others have been slightly wounded and hundreds of arrests have been made.

YOUNGSTOWN VALLEY PARMAZED
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 23.—Ohio's greatest steel center, the Mahoning valley, with the city of Youngstown as its axis, is completely paralyzed.

No dark clouds of smoke, indicating activity of thousands of workmen, obscure the skies. The sun, again shines unobstructed. The steel strike, which began last Monday, has resulted in the closing of every mill in the valley. Forty-four thousand men are idle, and weekly wages aggregating approximately $2,500,000 are unearned and unpaid.

Throughout the valley the same peacefulness which marked the walk-out of the first men Monday morning continues. Picketing is almost all at the mills, and the crowds upon the

FOUR ITALIAN WARSHIPS JOIN FIUMAN NAVY

ROME, Monday, Sept. 23.—(By the A. P.)—Four Italian warships, the battleships Dante Alighieri and the destroyers Mirafiori, Nullo and Abos, are named as units of the "Fiuman navy" in a proclamation written by Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio and distributed in this city.

The proclamation praises the men of these ships for their loyalty to the Fiuman cause and exhorts them to their "valorous acts." It is stated here it was because of the desertion of these four vessels from the regular Italian navy that allied commanders were forced to withdraw from the harbor of Fiume, which was considered unsafe while the Dante Alighieri was anchored there and was loyal to the D'Annunzio cause.

MINERS PLAN FOR STRIKE NOVEMBER 1
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—Demands for a sixty percent increase in all mine wages, a limit of six hours upon the day's labor underground, a five-day week with time and a half for overtime, double time for Sundays and holidays, and important improvements in conditions of labor were adopted today by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America.

The convention then adjourned to await the result of a joint wage scale conference with the operators of the central competitive district, which opens in Buffalo, Thursday. Should a satisfactory new agreement be reached by the representatives of the miners and operators at this conference the convention will be reconvened at Indianapolis to accept or reject it.

Should no agreement be reached in time to be ratified and come into effect by November 1, a general strike of all bituminous coal miners in the United States will automatically ensue on that date which may extend to the Canadian coal fields if the national executive and representatives of the Canadian districts so determine.

ASHES FROM BIG FOREST FIRE FALL
LOS ANGELES, CAL., Sept. 24.—Several hundred men were drafted today to fight fires on the Los Angeles national forest. The fire has burned over 100,000 acres of timber and its front is 20 miles long.

The principal fire is in the San Gabriel canyon region, 20 miles from here. Ashes from it fell like snow today in all parts of Los Angeles.

OGDEN, UTAH, Sept. 24.—President Wilson told a crowd yesterday that he had found eighty percent of the people in favor of the League of Nations. The chief opposition, he added, came from "a very disquieting element," which included the influences which tended toward disloyalty during the war.

The declaration was made from the rear platform of the president's private car where a crowd clamored for a speech after the presidential party had returned from a brief ride through Ogden.

"I can not make a real speech in the circumstances," he said, "for you will understand that the theme that I have most at heart, needs a lot of sea room to turn in, and I would despair of making any adequate remarks about so great a matter as the treaty of peace or the League of Nations; but I do find this, that the things very near the heart of the people."

MUST ASSIST JUDGMENT
"There are some men in public life who do not seem to be in touch with the heart of the people, but those who are, know that heart throbs deep and strong for this great enterprise of humanity, for it is nothing less than that."

"We must set our purposes in a very definite way to assist the judgment of public men. I do not mean in any way to coerce the judgment of public men, but to enlighten and encourage that judgment, for I am convinced after crossing the continent, that there is no sort of doubt that eighty percent of the people of the United States are for the League of Nations and that the chief opposition comes from the very disquieting element that we had to deal with before and during the war."

DISLOYALISTS AGAINST HIM
"All the elements that tended toward disloyalty are against the league and for a very good reason: If this league is not adopted, we will serve Germany's purpose because we will be dissociated from the nations, and I am afraid permanently dissociated from the nations, with whom we co-operated in defeating Germany."

PROSECUTING Attorney Sheppard makes announcement that he is considering the appointment of a motor cop, who will trail speeders, and that it is his intention to vigorously prosecute speed violations by automobilists.

That would sound better if the public hadn't heretofore been surfeited with like "proclamations," never getting any further along than the newspaper columns, until it is inclined to look upon all such as scornful doubt.

Let, however, the Prosecutor be given the encouragement of sincerity in his avowed purpose. It isn't altogether the fault of the law that speed regulations are not enforced. The indifferent attitude of the public toward the offense and the effort to correct it is in part to blame. A zealous official not only deserves support in his unpleasant work, he needs it. Many a one finds excuse in the claim that the people will not support, or approve him when he does try to do his full duty, and he isn't far wrong there as to the fact.

Let it be understood too that the Prosecuting Attorney can not do it all by himself. He has to have the aid of juries and judges and unless these join heartily with quick presentation and salutary penalty, not much will be accomplished.

General Pershing and General Wood are both being prominently mentioned for presidential nomination. The difference between the two is that Pershing utterly ignores the matter, giving no sign, while Wood, a regular Barkis-is-willum sort of a chap, is casting his glances around and trying to snuggle up.

No opera bouffe never contained such a temerarious thing as was perpetrated by D'Annunzio in entering Fiume and holding up the whole world by the tail, as it were. Already, however, the common place empty stomach threatens to put an unbloody end to this international romance.

Might as well announce here and now that those postoffice trucks that arrived Tuesday are not for sale. They are for use in the local postal service.

Since the Germans have taken to executing the bloody leaders of the Reds, respect for her new government is growing.

New York has got the idea wrong and thinks a commission form of government for the state would be better. It isn't the form, in a republic that makes for good or bad government, it is the sort of men that control and operate it.

Another theory exploded, 'The Atlantic and Mexican gulf' were swept last week by the severest storm in their history and many a gallant ship was sent to Davy Jones' locker, yet, there is no war raging either.

Campaigns for presidential nominations are being set afoot already. That's one trouble with this land, too much time is taken in figuring and fighting as to who shall fill the offices, and, conversely too little in minding how the offices are filled.

This weather is a sort of reminder that even the truck man has things run against him, being as winter is so near in prospective.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

The idea of a bride leaving the blues! Yet for three days I've been moping in the house or splashing about in the wet, windy road, battling with little blue devils.

It all started the night I didn't get home in time to fix dinner and found Jim already there with that man Belmont from the office.

What with that woman from New York I met at Mrs. Weyland's and her horrid son flirting with me and the idea both day and night Mr. Belmont gave me about New York—New York that I've always dreamed of and idealized as the place of all places to live—a full, useful, happy life—I got into a regular fit of the blues.

"Well, what do you think of Belmont?" Jim asked briskly next morning. For answer I sort of peckered up my face and said nothing.

"You mean you don't like him?" Jim turned to me with his hair half-brushed, half-sticking up.

"I like you better," I answered facetiously, kissing him on the ear.

"But, Ann, he's a splendid fellow." "All right, dear; he's a splendid fellow," I agreed, hurrying on my morning frock and bustling into the kitchen.

I hope Jim wouldn't pursue the subject, but of course he did.

"Why don't you like Charlie Belmont, Ann?" he persisted at the breakfast table.

"He's a type I don't understand, Jim; that's all. I suppose he's what people call a 'Broadway type'."

I didn't wish to argue to Jim that every time Belmont got a chance he said or did some little thing, (trifling in itself, but humiliating to a woman's sensitive feeling), to lead to describe him in a single phrase I'd say "not straight-forward."

"You certainly have the gift of imagination, Ann. If it were anything definite against Charlie Belmont you'd be doing all kinds a service to shoot it over. I may look up with him in a while."

"New - York - Day - By - Day BY O. O. MCINTYRE"

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—
He sits at eventide.
Under the Wisteria Arbor.
Over in Central Park.
And he is very old.
And very wrinkled.
And has grizzled hair.
And snowy white hair.
And in his hands.
He always held the Talmud.
And for two years.
I have watched him.
When I go for a walk.
With my dog at sunset.
And awhile ago.
We began to howl.
Then the other night.
I sat down beside him.
And he smiled a welcome.
And we discussed.
The dying splendor.
Of the great hall of fire.
That hang over the Hudson.
And he told me.
That for fifteen years.
He used to wheel his wife.
Who was an invalid.
Over to the harbor.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GENERAL PRESTON BROWN
General Preston Brown is one of the six men selected for the general war college staff who rose from the ranks to this honor.

Gen. Brown enlisted in the old 5th Artillery and studied for a commission in the Infantry. Before his enlistment period expired he had passed the examination and won his lieutenancy. He went into the Spanish-American war and served in the Santiago campaign.

In Cuba as a second lieutenant in the 2d Infantry. In 1899 he was promoted to be first lieutenant in the same regiment and went to the Philippine Islands. His regiment saw plenty of service in the islands during the next three years.

His work in the campaign won promotion for him, and in June, 1902, he was wearing the double shoulder bars of a captain. He served in the Judge Advocate General's department for a time and then went back to service with troops, being assigned to the 17th Infantry. He has also served with the quartermaster department, but found time to attend the Army School of the Line at Fort Leavenworth, graduating at the head of his class. From this school he went to the Staff College.

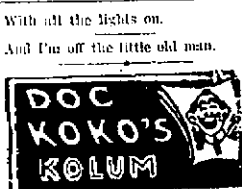

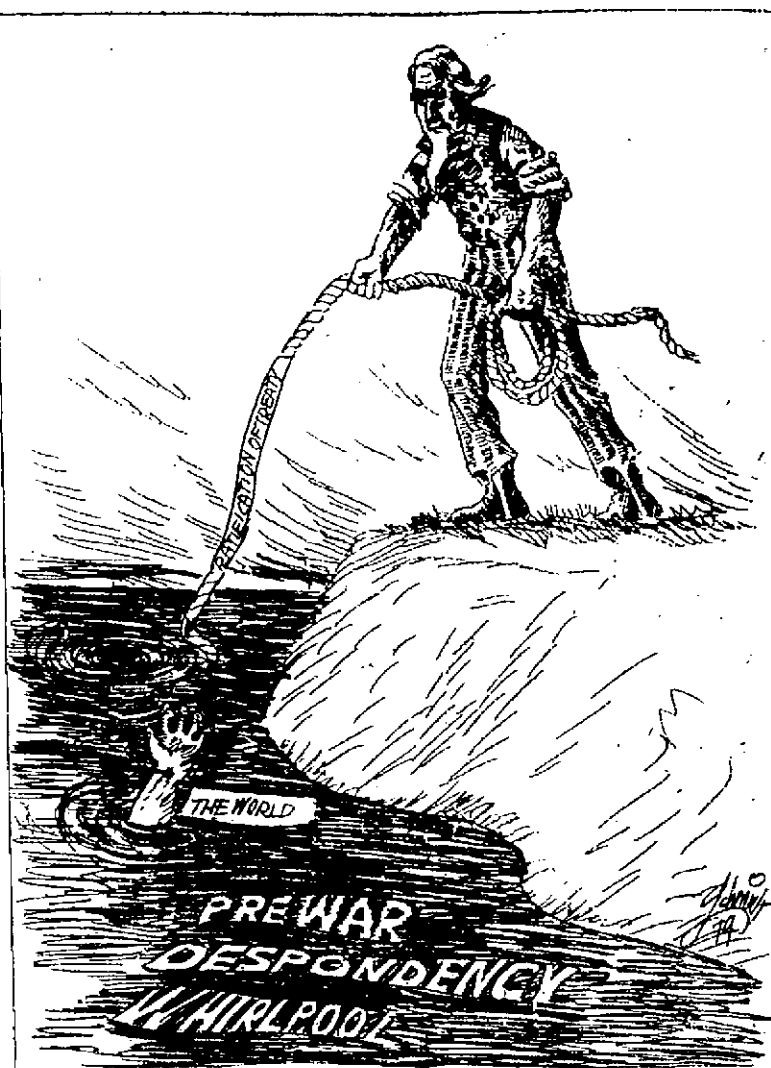

What he learned was of such worth to him that when he was chief of staff of the headquarters 2d Division, his direction of details of the battles near Chateau Thierry, Soissons and St. Mihiel, and his later work in commanding the 2d Division in the Argonne-Meuse offensive were marked by such signal ability that he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

And they would talk.
Of the birds, skies and trees.
And of the future.
And since she passed on.
More than five years ago.
He has come every night.
He said to continue with her.
And all at once.
There was a quick puff of air.
"That is her now," he said.
And I saw the hair.
On my dog's back bristle.
And there was a low whistle.
And my friend uttered.
A few words in ancient Hebrew.
And there was a pause.
And he said to me.
She comes every evening.
Just at this time.
And I don't believe in ghosts.
Or in spiritualism.
And the puff of air.
Was a mere coincidence.
And it just happened.
My dog bristled and whined.
But just the same.
My wife was in the country.
And I was alone.
And I slept all night long.

Mule Phenomenies
Ephraim Johnson was up before Judge Blumenshine on a cruelty to animals charge.

"Dead Ah wasn't abusing dat mule, judge," the old man demurred. "Did you not strike it repeatedly with a club?"

"Yassah!" "And do you not know that you can accomplish more with animals by speaking to them?"

"Yassah; but this critter am different. He am so deaf he can't hear me when Ah speaks to him in the usual way, so Ah has to communicate with him in de sign language."—Charleston Mail.

A Bouncer
Willie seemed deep in thought. A puzzled frown marked his chubby face.

"I can't make it out," he muttered. "Make what out?" asked his mother, who had been watching her little son with an amused smile.

"Why everyone calls little brother a bouncer."

Just As Good
"It is he a lot of money?" "No, but he has the next best thing."

"What is that?" "The ability to make people think he's rich."

Difference In Sexes
"I never was so disappointed in my life!" said Franklin.

"What's the trouble?" asked his friend. "In the city the other day I saw an aquatic exhibition advertised."

"Yes." "And I immediately bought tickets." "You were disappointed?"

"Yes; all I saw was a lot of men in diving suits." "But what did you expect at an aquatic exhibition?"

"Girls in bathing suits, at least."

Cause For Doubt
"Has your husband gone fishing?" "That's what he claims."

"Do you doubt the good man?" "Well, there are a lot of pictures to be hung and rings to be dusted and so on, today. John is too kind-hearted to refuse any request of mine."

"I shouldn't be surprised if he had simply gone down to the creek and hid in the bushes."

Only 21
"Gwendolyn must be very fond of you?"

"What makes you think so?" said Miss Curcione, coldly.

"Every year she gets up a birthday party for you."

"Mostly a delicate method of calling attention to my age."

Five strikers were arrested last night at the plant of the Shurtz Steel Stoop Company. According to police, two of the men had rocks tied in handkerchiefs while the others were unarmed.
